TURKS ARE TO STIR UP HOLY WAR AMONG 70 000 000 MOHAMMEDANS

VESUVIUS IN ERUPTION

By Associated Press.

London, November 2.—

Although four days have passed since Turkish warships ran amuck in the Black Sea, neither Russia nor Great Britain has, up until noon today, so far as was known in London, opened the fensive or even formally declared war against Turkey. The British press, as a whole, treats the situation as having reached a state permitting no "about face" by the government of the Sultan.

All reports seem to agree that the tide of battle in Belgium is flowing against the Germans, but it is felt in London that it will take some time to decide whether they must abandon their attempt to reach Calais. The retreat so often predicted and even anticipated by the newspapers had not set in today, although the allies were reported as within a short walk of Ostend.

Turkey, it is argued in London will endeavor to accomplish three things, first, the invasion of Egypt; second, the blockade of the Suez canal and third, the stirring up of a holy war among the 70,000,000 Mohammedans in India as well as among the religionists in Egypt.

London, November 2.—The renewed assaults of the Germans, which have led to the most violent fighting of the war, are still in progress with fury unparalleled, but there are no changes of importance along the 300 mile battle front. The deadlock remains unbroken. Positions have been held by both sides with dogged tenacity, notwithstanding the bitterness of the struggle and the enormous loss of life.

The contention of Germany as to the ultimate result is reflected in the words of Emperor William. "Under all circumstances, the enemy will be beaten," he said in addressing a regiment.

The allies are said to have made some progress, including on the blood soaked fields of Flanders. The German and Austrian forces in the east, compelled to retire before the Russian advance, have taken up new positions and a renewal of the general fighting is at hand.

Apparently Turkey is now definitely involved in the general war. What the allies described as the "last chance" for Turkey to keep out of the struggle disavowing responsibility for the acts of her Black Sea fleet have not been explained, and the British handed Turkish ambassador passports, following similar action by Russia.

Meanwhile the Turkish fleet continues acts of aggression. The Goben and four Turkish torpedo boats renewed the bombardment of Russian towns of Crimea. The presence of Turkish gunboats at the entrance of the Gulf of Suez canal and British troops at an Arab village on the gulf. No word has been received from Greece and Roumania, whose participation in war is not unlikely.

Berlin, November 2.—Official reports from the western front show a change in the situation in northern France and Belgium, but in Poland would appear to be shaping themselves for a renewal of the fighting between the main forces of Russia and the Austro-German allies.

Paris, November 2.—The French official announcement given out in this afternoon says that yesterday the German attacks on the left wing, particularly between Dixmude and the Lys, continued with great violence. In spite of counter attacks of the enemy in the region the French made slight

$9,000,000 INDEMNITY

By Associated Press.

Amsterdam, November 2.—A telegram received here from Berlin announces that, after protracted negotiations, the war indemnity to the Germans for the city of Brussels has been fixed at 45,000,000 francs, or $9,000,000, payable at 2,500,000 francs, or $500,000 weekly.

NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS INDICTED

By Associated Press.

New York, November 2.—Criminal indictments were returned today by the United States Grand Jury against 21 directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, including William Rockefeller, Theodore N. Vail, George F. Baker, Wm. Skinner, Chas. F. Brooker and John L. Billard.

The indictments charged conspiracy in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law to monopolize commerce. Under section 2 of the law under which they were returned the maximum penalty upon conviction is one year imprisonment and $5,000 fine.

The complete list of those indicted is as follows:

Wm. Rockefeller, Geo. MacCulloch Miller, Chas. F. Brooker, Wm. Skinner, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, James S. Elton, James S. Hemingway, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Chas. M. Pratt, A. Heaton Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster, Henry K. Mc-

7,000,000 BELGIANS VIRTUALLY HOMELESS

Brussels, November 2.—Between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 Belgians have little or nothing to call "home". They are a people almost without a country. Foodstuffs first, forage for horses, cattle and automobiles not commandeered by the Belgian army when the war broke out have been seized by the Germans. Practically every acre is now swept of everything valuable. It is estimated that there are now 200,000 Belgians in England and 800,000 in Holland. The lowest estimate made here places the number of Belgian homes destroyed or so badly damaged as to be uninhabitable, at 1,000,000.

New York, November 2.—Three million women and children in Belgium are now suffering actual hunger, according to a cablegram from

CHICAGO STOCK YARDS CLOSED BY QUARANTINE

By Associated Press.

Chicago, November 2.—The Union Stock Yards, the largest in the world, were quarantined today against the shipment of cattle, hogs and sheep, on orders received from Washington, according to Dr. Bennett, chief of the local branch of the United States Bureau of Live Stock Industry.

"This means the cessation of the meat packing business for the time being," said Dr. Bennett.

The government quarantine at the stockyards was modified this afternoon to permit the receipt and slaughter of cattle, hogs and sheep in this market.

Naples, via Rome, November 2.—Vesuvius is again in eruption and the inhabitants in its vicinity have become alarmed. On Sunday special prayers were made, as a repetition of the disaster of 1906 is feared. The activity of the volcano first manifested itself by deep detonations and rumblings. This was followed by gigantic columns of smoke and soon thereafter an abundant eruption of lava began.

The last serious eruption of Mt. Vesuvius occurred in the spring of 1906. Several villages were destroyed and the property loss estimated at $20,000,000. About 500 were killed and 50,000 rendered homeless. Many nations, especially the United States sent aid. There have been several eruptions since 1906 but all were of minor character.

MIDNIGHT MEET BETWEEN JAPS AND AMERICANS

By Associated Press.

Honolulu, November 2.—A midnight conference was held between Collector of Port Franklin, Department Collector Sharp and the Japanese consul here last night and wireless messages were exchanged with the United States revenue cutter Thetis, patrolling outside the harbor.

Col. Franklin appeared perturbed and was uncommunicative as to the cause for the meeting at that unusual hour.

Two large Japanese cruisers are hovering outside the harbor near where the Thetis is on duty, but whether the conference and the messages had to do with them were not learned from any official source.

WHICH WILL WIN? WILL FRENCH REACH FORTIFIED METZ, OR WILL GERMANS FORCE THEIR WAY TO BELFORT?

How will the tide of war go in the east of France? Will the French fight their way to Metz, in Alsace-Lorraine, or will the Germans force their way to Belfort, the practically southern extreme of the present battle front? The armies are awaying back and forth in this struggle for supremacy—Belfort or Metz. If the Germans can take Verdun and Belfort they will have accomplished a wonderful feat and greatly have strengthened their forces in France. If the French, on the other hand, can fight their way to Metz and invest that very strongly fortified city they will have begun the actual invasion of the kaiser's realm.

Explosive Coughs Fairly Rack You to Pieces

Foley's Honey and Tar is Just Like Oil on Troubled Waters for those Violent Racking Coughs.

They rasp and strain your throat, tear at your chest and lungs, congest the blood in your neck and head, almost strangle you, leave you weak and fairly exhausted. Often they are a symptom of such grave diseases as bronchitis, pleurisy, pneumonia—even tuberculosis.

"Oh, for a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY and TAR to stop this awful coughing."

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND spreads a healing, soothing coating as it glides down the raw inflamed throat. It loosens the cough, brings the phlegm up easily. Takes away that tight feeling across the chest, and eases stuffy, wheezy breathing and hoarseness. A dealer of Toledo, Ohio, (name furnished) who has sold FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR for years, writes: "One of my customers came into store to use long distance telephone. He was coughing so violently that he could not talk. I sat him down and gave him a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and in 10 minutes he had recovered. He had been unable to work for three months, due to this cough. He says FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR relieved him entirely of this trouble."

S. MARTIN, Bassett, Nebr., writes: "I had a severe cough and cold and was almost past going. I got a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and used it frequently, when having violent coughing spells, and am glad to say it cured my cough entirely and my cold soon disappeared."

ENGLISH CHANNEL BELIEVED UNSAFE

London, Nov. 2.—An official statement was issued in Dover that two men were killed and nine injured in the sinking of the British light cruiser Hermes by a German submarine in the Straits of Dover. The number of missing is estimated at forty. Her complement as 456 officers and men. The sinking of the Hermes has caused considerable apprehension because of the nearness of the attack to the British coast. The other attacks on English cruisers were made somewhere in the North sea and presumably at some distance from the coast. The boldness of the submarine in entering the Straits of Dover and opening there raises the question of the safety of the channel.

ROCKEFELLER TO SPEND MILLIONS

Aid Promised Innocent Victims of European War.

New York, Nov. 2.—The Rockefeller foundation, through its president, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., made known its determination to do everything within its power for the relief of non-combatants in the European war. To this end Mr. Rockefeller says, in a statement issued over his name, no exertion will be spared and millions of dollars if necessary will be spent.

Already the steamer, the Massapequa, has been chartered to sail with all speed with foodstuffs for the starving Belgians. It is mentioned that the supplies now being stowed in the hold of this steamer mark an initial expenditure of $275,000. The Massapequa will leave New York tomorrow. Other steamers laden with food and other supplies are to follow quickly.

A special commission is to leave New York within a few days to visit the countries affected by the war. At the head of this commission will be Wickliffe Rose, director general of the international health commission. He will be aided by others yet to be named. Their work is, of course, to be absolutely neutral. Aid is to be given first to those who seem to need it first, but it is to be given alike to the people of all the warring nations without restriction, and only with a wish to relieve human misery and suffering.

MEAT BONES.

Many Ways In Which They May Be Utilized as Nourishing Food.

One of the food experts of the United States department of agriculture says that almost any meat bones can be used in soup-making and if the meat is not all removed from them the soup is better. But some bones, especially the rib bones, if they have a little meat left on them, can be grilled or roasted into very palatable dishes.

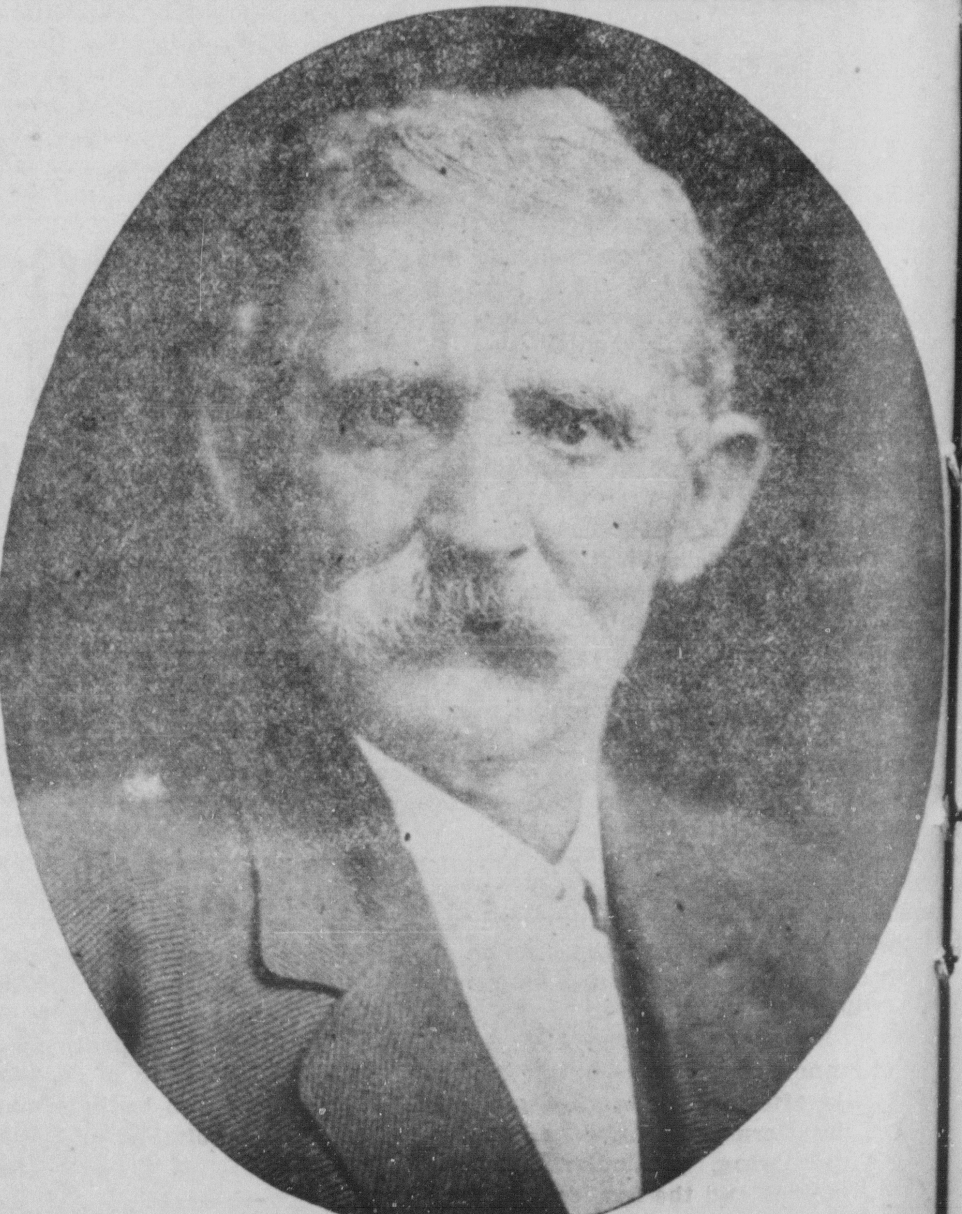

The "sparerib" of southern cooks is made of the rib bones from a roast of pork and makes a favorite dish when well browned. The braised ribs of beef often served in high class restaurants are made from the bones cut from rib roasts. In this connection it may be noted that many of the dishes popular in good hotels are made of portions of meat such as are frequently thrown away in private houses, but which with proper cooking and seasoning make attractive dishes and give most acceptable variety to the menu.

An old recipe for "broiled bones" directs that the bones (beef ribs or sirloin bones on which the meat is not left too thick in any part) be sprinkled with salt and pepper (cayenne) and broiled over a clear fire until browned.

Another example of the use of bones is boiled marrowbone. The bones are cut in convenient lengths, the ends covered with a little piece of dough over which a floured cloth is tied and cooked in boiling water for two hours. After removing the cloth and dough the bones are placed upright on toast and served. Prepared as above, the bones may also be baked in a deep dish. Marrow is sometimes removed from bones after cooking and seasoned and served on toast.—Pittsburgh Press.

Failure is very often the result of waiting for other people to do things first.

I am a candidate for County Commissioner on the Democratic ticket and pledge myself if elected to devote my time and attention to looking after the business of the county to the end that the greatest benefit shall come to the people with the least expense. Your support will be fully appreciated. Wm. H. Sheley.

The Campaign Closes

If favorable weather conditions prevail, the indications are that Ohio will poll the largest vote in the history of the state tomorrow.

The record vote, so far as the number of votes cast is concerned, was cast six years ago, when one million one hundred and twenty-three thousand one hundred and ninety-eight electors of Ohio exercised the constitutional right of franchise and deposited their ballots at the various voting precincts throughout the state.

This year it is quite probable that the record of six years ago will be surpassed by at least one hundred thousand and that too, notwithstanding the fact that the statistics show that in the "off" years—those years when no president is to be elected—is almost invariably from one hundred thousand to two hundred thousand short as compared with those years in which the people are called upon to elect a president.

In casting a record making big vote this year, therefore, Ohio would establish a new precedent in addition to setting a new high mark for number of votes cast.

There are a number of conditions which conspire this year to make the vote a heavy one.

First there is the "wet and dry" issue always a potent factor in arousing the interest and compelling the activity of the voters.

The shifting of voters from the Progressive party, born two years ago, to the older parties, which has been apparent to every observer, has exercised a decided influence in creating the impression that the contest on the governorship and the state tickets would be much less one-sided than it was two years ago when the new party exhibited such phenomenal strength. This impression has had the effect of making rival candidates and rival political managers work harder—the campaign has been more spirited and aggressive—than it was even in the days before there was a formidable third party.

One of the old parties has been encouraged to unprecedented activity by returning hopes of success and the other has been spurred on by fear of loss of prestige.

The campaign which draws to a close this night, has been one of the most bitter and, in many respects, most unpleasant that has been fought in Ohio in years, and every intelligent law-abiding voter, and certainly the candidates themselves, are heartily glad that it is drawing to a close.

It is scarcely necessary to assert, after a campaign like the present, that every voter should cast his vote on every one of the propositions submitted.

It is to be hoped, sincerely, that not for a long, long time will Ohio people be compelled to pass through the ordeals of another such a bitter campaign.

The people, while interested as they should be, are not nearly so wrought up as are the political managers and tomorrow in peace and quiet in the calm that follows the storm, they will go to the polls and record the verdict which will officer the old ship of state, provide it with compass and chart and provision it for another two years' cruise in the quiet harbor of every-day life.

Vote Against The Classification Amendment

One of the most important matters that will come up for settlement at the hands of the electorate tomorrow is the proposed amendment to the constitution, entitled, "Limitation of the Tax Rate and for the Classification of Property for Purposes of Taxation."

It is an amendment that should be voted down, for the reason that its instigators are making use of the justly popular 10-mill tax limitation to pull through a scheme for the classification of personal and intangible property and its taxation at lower valuations than real property.

This amendment is classed by some well-informed men as the entering wedge to the establishment of the single tax idea, under which only real estate would be taxed. Such a thing would mean a great hardship on the owners of farming lands and unimproved city property, to say nothing of the increased burdens that would fall on the home owner. It necessarily follows that the single tax idea, or even the classification of personal property at lower rates of taxation than real estate, will inure greatly to the benefit of the money lenders and owners of stocks, bonds, franchises, etc., the very chaps who have so long sought to fasten the taxes solely on real property. This class has been dissatisfied with the method of assessing property this year, especially in the larger cities, because under the appointive assessor system, nearly a billion dollars, mostly in intangible property, was uncovered and placed on the tax duplicate. The direct result was a $4,000,000 saving given by the state to real property owners, together with lower local tax rates in practically every part of the state. Since it is no longer possible to frame up and bring about the election of assessors in the cities, who would close their eyes on millions upon millions of dollars in personal and intangible property, held by their friends and colleagues, that class has undertaken to slip a clause into the constitution of the state providing for the classification of personal property, with the ultimate object the wiping out of all taxes except on real estate. The classification advocates are using the 10-mill tax limit to pull it through.

Therefore all those who believe in the tax limit of 10 mills should beware of the amendment and vote against it this time, and until such a time as they can vote on it alone.

Poetry For Today

THE MAGIC NIGHT.

Hush thee! it is the magic night,
And the moon her lonely tryst does keep.
Be still! rest now thy voice awhile,
And then to thee will come the beat—
The beat of the magic world is around,
It is only in silence that magic is found.

Hush thee! the wind will then her secret tell;
Thy love will come in its whispers clear.
Gaze in the glass of the cool night air
And you'll see the face you hold most dear.
The beat of the magic world is around,
It is only in silence that magic is found.

Hush thee! and when the midnight hour
Proclaims itself, do thou thy part,
Hold out thy hands with love in them,
Take thou the world to thy throbbing heart.
The beat of the magic world is around,
It is only in silence that magic is found.

LUCK OF BANGOR SNEE.

A Warning to That Well Known Citizen Who Reads Over Your Shoulder.

The car was crowded, and everybody had something to read. Consequently everybody read the next passenger's periodical.

Let us start with the stout man who was holding a copy of "Hints to Housewives and Mothers." While the messenger boy on the stout man's right almost broke his neck trying to read "Hints to Housewives and Mothers," the stout man himself was absorbed in "The Boy Scouts' Review," the property of the thin lady on the left.

The thin lady, in turn, was craning over to read page 93 of "Caesar's Commentaries," in Latin.

The policeman who owned the commentaries seemed deeply interested in "From Bootblack to White Wing," which lay neglected in the lap of the bank president on his left.

Now, nobody at all happened to be sitting on the other side of Mr. Snee, so, as he was already familiar with "From Bootblack to White Wing," there was nothing for him to read. So he stared at the car advertisements, all unaware that if he had but glanced at his "Evening Disbursor" his eye would have lighted on this personal: "If Bangor Snee will correspond with Half & Half, executors of the will of his uncle, who died intestate in Potogania, leaving $9,000,000, he will hear of something to his advantage."

But, of course, as it never occurred to Bangor Snee to glance at his own paper, he remained a comparatively poor man.—New York Times.

On the rest of the front the day was marked by violent artillery fire and by counter attacks of the enemy, which were without result."

BATTLEFIELD HOSPITALS.

Rules That Govern the Treatment of the Wounded.

The care of the wounded is necessarily an important duty imposed on every nation in case of war.

The general system adopted for providing a medical service is practically identical in the armies of all the great powers. It contemplates a division of the service into three portions—that which belongs to and accompanies the fighting troops, that which pertains to the base (of supplies) and the line of communications and that which pertains to the home territory, or "the zone of the interior."

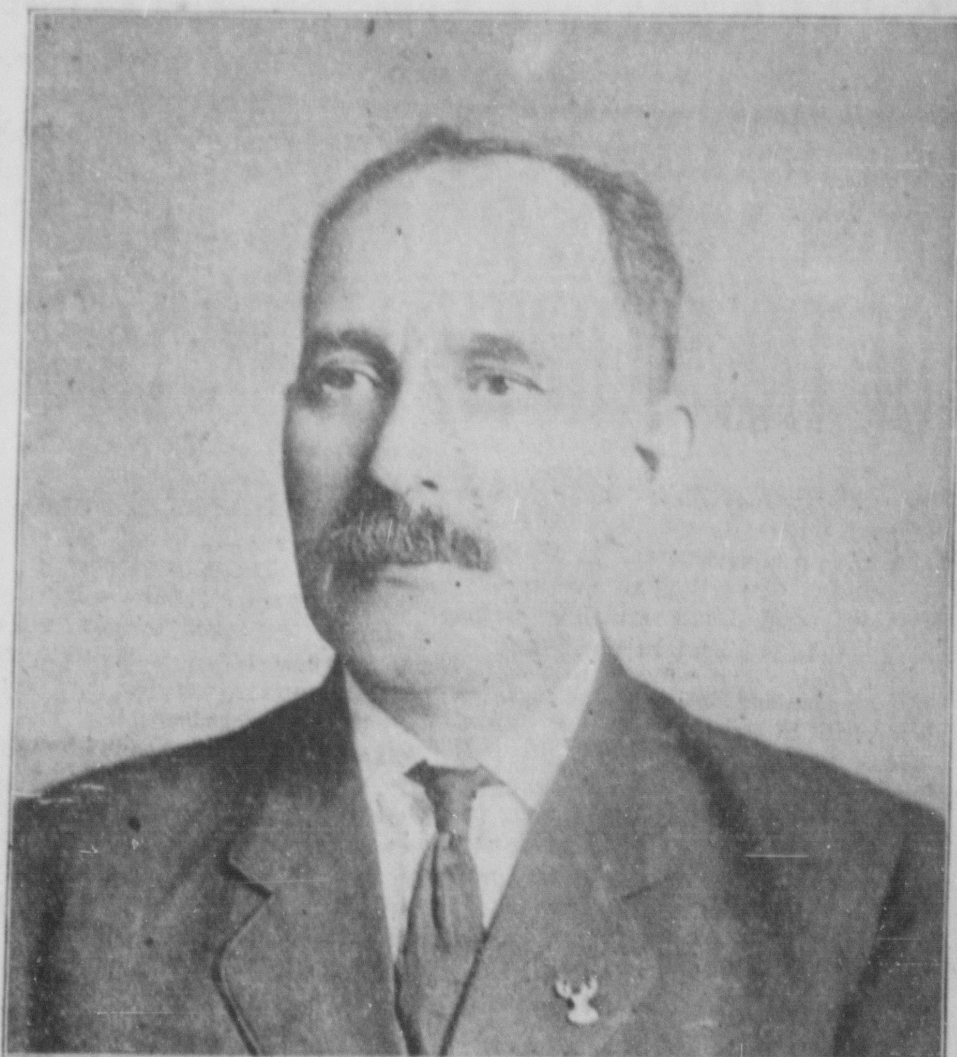

The principle governing these services is that nothing but first aid and emergency treatment should be attempted in the immediate zone of combat and that, having received this treatment, the disabled should be quickly transported to the "base," where abundant facilities for their care can be provided without encumbering the fighting forces.

Here at the base they are carefully classified, and those who are so seriously disabled as to be unfit for further service at the front are sent back to hospitals at home, while those who are less seriously disabled are retained until they are well enough to leave the hospital, when they are transferred to the convalescent camp. Here they remain until they have fully regained their strength, when they rejoin their regiments at the front.—Scientific American.

THOUSANDS WITNESS PARADE OF THE MERRY HALLOWE'ENERS

Several Hundred Merry Makers Take Part in Parade and Carnival Given Under Auspices of the Y. M. C. A.—Many Clever and Grotesque Costumes, and Little and Big Folks Take Active Part in the Sport.

The greatest Halloween celebration ever held in the city was that of Saturday night, when several hundred persons, costumed in every conceivable outfit, furnished amusement for a crowd estimated at fully 8,000 persons, who thronged the streets and enjoyed the sport almost as much as those who were taking part in the demonstration.

The carnival, held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. went off without a hitch, with the single exception of failure to obtain red fire sufficient for the entire number of participants in the celebration.

The parade formed on South Main street, and with part of Company M doing police duty, marched out East street, and later came down Court street, where the police had roped off the street and handled the crowd admirably. Court street was crowded from side to side, from North to Main street, and the merry-makers were cheered on all sides as they filed through, headed by the guards and followed closely by the Old Witch and other leaders. Those in charge marched between the two long lines of grotesque figures.

The German artillery, composed of Schlabach, Dixon, Olds, Toops, McClung and Jones, was one of the crowning features of the celebration, a cleverly arranged cannon, with a motor truck laden with uniformed German gunners, taking an active part in the proceedings.

The Irish brigade, headed by Secretary Patton, with his wheelbarrow, attracted no little attention. The two suffragettes, Zaner and Kelley; the Jap, McLean; the merry clown, Sprenger; the "how-dry-I-am" man, Kennedy; the Weary Willie, Lydy; the Old Witch, Evans and others, were prominent figures in the parade.

At the Hagler field Mr. Henry Brownell had placed a car-load of old butter tubs and a big bonfire was soon lighting the surrounding community, while a grand promenade was held about the fire, the greased pole afforded much amusement, the tug of war was entered into with a vim, and a sham battle was fought. A merry time generally was indulged in by the large crowd.

Premiums awarded for the best costumes were as follows: Nina Combs, hand mirror, given by Craig Bros.; Oliver Tracey, hat, given by Leo Katz & Co., and Frank M. Kennedy, piece of hand-painted china, given by Cockerill's grocery.

HOBSON DISCUSSES MUCH MOOTED LIQUOR PROBLEM

Hero of the Spanish-American War Makes His Second Appearance Here and Addresses Two Large Audiences in Interests of State-Wide Prohibition.

Two large audiences, one in Grace M. E. church, and the other in Memorial hall, welcomed Hon. Richard Pearson Hobson, Saturday night, when Mr. Hobson appeared here in the interests of state-wide prohibition and presented the proposition in a new and strong light, which appealed to those who heard him.

The first speech was made at Grace church, and the other address was given at Memorial hall by the well known advocate of nation-wide prohibition.

In each address Mr. Hobson discussed the injurious effects of alcohol, first analyzing alcohol and then describing the effects upon the man, and how it injured his moral and spiritual side, while feeding the grosser side.

He stated among other things that

The fate of the suffrage amendment has been in good hands the past four days in this county, with local women active, together with these busy and able campaigners.

TO VOTERS LET WOMEN VOTE

They pay taxes, direct and indirect, imposed and collected by officials in whose election they have no voice; they must abide by laws made by a government of which they are not citizens.

Our laws need to reflect the point of view of the woman, the mother—the protecting, conserving element in humanity—as well as the point of view of the man.

Let us therefore, make our government truly representative, "of and by and for" the whole people, by giving the power of the ballot to our women.

Let us do our part to make the Woman Suffrage amendment carry on next election day, November 3rd.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does—but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. VOTERS AROUSED

Wet Amendment Would Aid State-Wide Trade in the Sale of Liquor.

The effort of the liquor forces of Ohio to engraft into the state constitution their alleged home rule proposal for the sale of liquor is stirring the greatest storm of protest and opposition which has ever swept over the state.

Voters are having the facts marshaled before them and backed by the best legal talent in the state, that to adopt the brewers' proposed amendment means state-wide whiskey and beer.

It means the repeal of the county option law, the placing in jeopardy of the Sunday closing law, the law prohibiting sales to minors and drunkards, and makes permanently wet all townships, in which there are no cities or villages. It means establishing saloons throughout the country districts where there is no police protection and where overwhelming sentiment is against them, and then the amendment prohibits the legislature from ever re-enacting against the laws which the brewers now seek to destroy.

It is as high-handed an effort to strangle the people and take from them their weapons of protection as has ever been attempted in Ohio or elsewhere.

Were the proposal to do only that which the wets admit, it should not receive the vote of any citizen who is not tied to a beer wagon. The wets admit it will kill county option, and prevent the legislature from enacting any kind of a prohibitory law, but judges and attorneys who have examined carefully the proposal, agree that it will, if adopted, destroy practically all existing temperance laws. CARRANZA'S ARMY READY FOR BATTLE

Villa's Troops About to Move Against Mexico City.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 2.—To enforce the retirement of General Carranza from the executive power in Mexico, General Villa has ordered his troops to prepare at once for a movement to Mexico City of the major part of his army. Trains with extra engines are ordered concentrated at Torreon, Guadalupe, where Villa is making his present headquarters, and at Zacatecas. Representatives of Villa declare that the contemplated troop movement is merely to take possession of Mexico City after the withdrawal of General Carranza, in order to prevent disorders.

To meet Villa's southward advance, however, it is understood that Carranza has 20,000 men at Leon under General Villareal, 8,000 at Tamaulipas under General Caballero, and many other troops at San Luis Potosi.

There is a general belief here that armed conflict will be precipitated by any southward movement of Villa's army, inasmuch as Carranza has made his withdrawal wholly contingent on the removal of Villa from Mexico.

No vote has been taken by the Aguascalientes conference on the selection of a provisional president to succeed Carranza, whom the conference deposed by decree. Although the convention deposed both Carranza and Villa, provision was made for retaining Villa in the Mexican army in equal rank to that which he now holds. Carranza is accorded the thanks of the convention for his services during the revolution and is tendered the rank of general in the Mexican army.

No Heart in It.

A Broad street employer of a temperamental stenographer is a man of practical sense and real kindness who wants the girl to succeed at her business. The other day he called her into his private office and had a fatherly talk with her. Later one of her colleagues in the same building met her in the elevator.

"Say, Gladys," she said, "what's this about your boss having a heart to heart talk with you this morning?"

"Heart nothing," responded the temperamental creature, tossing her blond locks like an oriflamme of war. "What he handed to me hadn't no more heart in it than there is in a slab of liver at a ten cent beanery. See?"

Which is one reason why girl stenographers can be hired at $6 a week.—New York Sun.

THE RED CROSS.

Its Real Origin Dates to Napoleon's Italian Campaign of 1859.

The Red Cross owes its real origin to the great and terrible campaign of 1859, when Napoleon made it his boast that he would free Italy "from the Alps to the Adriatic." At the great battle of Magenta 10,000 Austrians and some 5,000 French soldiers were left dead and dying on the fields.

A Swiss gentleman, named M. Henri Dunant, made a pilgrimage to that battlefield and was an involuntary eyewitness of the awful carnage of the battle of Solferino, a battle which lasted some sixteen hours and left some 20,000 dead and wounded. Henri Dunant realized that the medical service of what was probably the greatest army in the world was absolutely inadequate to cope with the casualties, and he was at once compelled to take some action to rectify the matter.

The result was that he wrote a small book for private circulation, entitled "Un Souvenir de Solferino," and this, with his private appeal, resulted in Napoleon III, commanding Dunant to his presence, where, with the great Marshal MacMahon, they seriously talked matters over.

The result of this was a conference of the powers, called together by the Swiss federal government, at which Henri Dunant placed his proposals. Out of this Geneva conference of 1864 resulted the Geneva convention, under which all medical supplies and personnel in war time are protected.

Views of President Wilson AND EX-PRESIDENT TAFT ON PROHIBITION AND LOCAL OPTION

The Anti-Saloon League Has Not Published President Wilson's Texas Letter in Full.
We Reproduce in Full His Letter to Rev. Thomas B. Shannon, Superintendent of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League.

My Dear Mr. Shannon:—The question asked in your letter, April 27, about my attitude toward the important question of local option is, of course, a perfectly legitimate one, and you are entitled to a very frank answer. I would have replied sooner had I not been prevented by imperative public engagements. I have explained my views to you in private, but have, of course no objection to your making them public.

"I am in favor of local option. I am a thorough believer in local self-government and believe that every self-governing community which constitutes a social unit should have the right to control the matter of regulation or of the withholding of licenses.

But the questions involved are social and moral, not political, and are not susceptible of being made parts of a party programme. Whenever they have been made the subject matter of party contests, they have cut the lines of party organization and party action athwart to the utter confusion of political action in every other field. They have thrown every other question, however important, into the background and have made constructive party action impossible for long years together.

"So far as I am myself concerned, therefore, I can never consent to have the question of local option made an issue between political parties in this state. My judgment is very clear in this matter. I do not believe that party programmes of the highest consequence to the political life of the state and of the nation ought to be thrust on one side and hopelessly embarrassed for long periods together by making a political issue of a great question which is essentially non-political, non-partisan, moral and social in its nature.

"Very sincerely yours, WOODROW WILSON."

Wm. H. Taft on Prohibition

HON. WM. H. TAFT, in his work, "Four Aspects of Civic Duty," says:

Nothing is more foolish, nothing more utterly at variance with sound policy than to enact a law which by reason of conditions surrounding the community is incapable of enforcement. Such instances are sometimes presented by sumptuary laws, by which the sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited under penalties in localities, where the public sentiment of the immediate community does not and will not sustain the enforcement of the law. In such cases the legislation usually is the result of agitation by the people in the country districts, who are determined to make their fellow citizens in the city better. The enactment of the law comes through the country representatives who form a majority of the Legislature, but the enforcement of the law is among the people who are generally opposed to its enactment, and under such circumstances the law is a dead letter. In cases where the sale of liquor can not be prohibited in fact, it is far better to regulate than to attempt to stamp it out.

"By the enactment of a drastic law and the failure to enforce it, there is injected into the public mind the idea that laws are to be observed or violated according to the will of those affected. I need not say how altogether pernicious such loose theory is. The constant violation or neglect of any law leads to a demoralized view of all laws."

MENDEL'S LAW.

The following beautiful clear summary of the principles of mendelism is due to the Rev. W. Wilks, the famous horticulturist, who developed the Shirley poppy:

If you cross pure yellow and pure green peas either way—it matters not which is seed bearer and which pollen bearer—you will get all yellow seeds. If you sow these hybrid seeds, each will, if it germinates, produce a plant which will bear, say, forty seeds, thirty of which will on the average be yellow and ten green. The green, if sown and sown and sown for countless generations, will always bear green seeds true to the original green parents (barring the always possible intervention of insects).

Not so the thirty yellow. These when sown will on the average produce ten plants bearing all pure yellow seeds, which will be constant and true to the original yellow parent for countless generations. The remaining twenty plants will be impure yellow, each plant producing, on the average, one-quarter of its seeds pure yellow, one-quarter pure green and one-half impure yellow, which last will repeat the process and proportion practically forever.

This is the law of inheritance which is the basis of all the studies of the eugenists and, in fact, of all breeders of animals and plants.—New York World.

French Claim the Allies Hold Ground Gained Saturday.

MAKE PROGRESS IN CENTER

Allied Forces and Germans Showing Effects of the Hard Fought, Prolonged and Indecisive Struggles in Belgium and France—Kaiser Rushing Up Reinforcements For Fresh Assaults on Enemy's Line.

Paris, Nov. 2.—The official reports from the French government indicate that the allies successfully defended ground won Saturday, while steadily holding positions north of the Aisne and making some progress in the center and in the east.

Allies and Germans have suffered terribly in these hard fought, prolonged and indecisive struggles. Each side, it is assumed, is bringing up reinforcements to fill ranks depleted by exhaustion and injuries.

Powerless to make progress in the extreme north, the Germans strengthened their attack near the hinge of the old battle line, northeast of Soissons and along the heights of the Aisne. They were reported beaten

GERMAN CASUALTIES

TOTAL 420,000.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The German casualty lists for the last week amount to 62,000, it was announced here. The total to date is about 420,000. Reports from stations of convalescences show that thousands of wounded have already returned to the front and these are being used as instructors for new formations.

back at Lihons en Santerre, Lesqueno en Santerre and Vailly-sur-Aisne. In the region northeast of Rheims, where the French have developed a powerful offensive, they continued to bend back the German line north of Soissons.

At the east of the battle line the fighting was severe. The German army in the Argonne forest renewed its attempt to approach Verdun from the northwest and was checked in the forest of Grurie. Simultaneously the French made progress to the east of Verdun and captured the heights around Sainte Marie.

There is a report that Germany is determined to break the allied line even at the cost of her offensive in East Prussia and Silesia and is sending army corps westward as rapidly as possible.

AMERICAN SHIP TAKEN TO COURT

Washington, Nov. 2.—Further indications of Great Britain's determination that no copper or other materials useful in war shall reach Germany through neutral adjacent countries came to the state department in a report from Consul Sprague at Gibraltar, that the British authorities will take the American steamer Kroonland, with 1,400 tons of American copper on board, before a prize court. State department officials had been hopeful that the Kroonland would be promptly released. It is believed here that the British feel that they have evidence warranting the trial of the vessel before an admiralty court. This action with regard to the Kroonland will undoubtedly for the first time bring sharply to an issue between the British and American governments the question of Great Britain's right to interfere with American shipments of contraband to neutral countries adjoining Germany and Austria.

GERMANS CLAIM MORE BIG GAINS

Washington, Nov. 2.—The following war bulletin was received at the German embassy:

"Our enemy in Belgium occupied Ramsappelle, two miles east of Neuport, and our attacks on Ypres are progressing. Zeandavoorde, Chateau Hollenneke and Wambeke have been stormed. Farther south we also have gained ground to the east of Soissons. The enemy has been attacked and chased from several strongly fortified positions to the north of Vailley, ten miles east of Soissons, which was stormed, and the enemy driven across the Aisne, suffering severe losses. We captured 1,000 prisoners and two machine guns. In the Argonne and to the west of Verdun several French attacks were repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy."

THE "WHY" OF A "HOT BOX."

A Railroad Official Says the Cause is Simply Carelessness.

In answer to the question "What is a hot box?" a Kansas City Southern official has the following to say:

"A hot box is a sign that the safety first rule is not practiced by some car department man.

"There is no excuse for a hot box after a car is sent out if the train is carefully looked over by the car men at each terminal. Primarily a hot box is caused by poor waste and an insufficient 'greasing' at the time it should have been done, and there is no excuse for one. A hot box is liable to cause a wreck, and a wreck on most railroads costs money, much more than the price of a sufficient quantity of waste and oil and grease to protect the journals of the car wheels.

"The farmer who buys a new wagon or a buggy has a pretty good idea of what a hot box means and the ways to prevent it. When he buys a new wagon he sees to it that the spindle is well greased so it will not get hot. He watches it closely and does not take any chances on the wheels running hot. The farmer's wheels on his new wagon or buggy would stick, and if he persisted in driving ahead he would soon have a bad spindle and a bad wheel.

"However, the results would not be so disastrous as they would be in a train of cars running at a speed of fifteen or twenty miles an hour. It's no wonder that trainmen use language unfit for a Sunday school class when they find a hot box in their train. They know that some one has been careless and shirking in his work and that he is to blame."—New York Post.

The First Evolutionist.

The first to suggest the transmutation of species among animals was Buffon, about 1750. The eccentric Lord Mombodo was the first to suggest the possible descent of man from the ape, about 1774. In 1813 a Dr. W. C. Wells first proposed to apply the principle of natural selection to the natural history of man, and in 1822 Herbert first asserted the transmutation of species in plants.

State of War Exists Between Turkey and Triple Entente.

OTHER NATIONS ON THE BRINK

Greece, Roumania and Serbia Likely to Be Dragged Into Hostilities, With Italy and Portugal Possibilities.
Turkish Troops Cross the Egyptian
Border—Porte Ignores the Allies' Ultimatum.

London, Nov. 2.—Turkey has definitely thrown in her lot with Austria and Germany, and if Portugal is counted there now are eleven powers at war with prospects of three more—Greece, Bulgaria and Roumania—being drawn in.

The note which Great Britain presented to Turkey on Friday last, demanding an explanation of the actions of the Turkish fleet in the Black sea and the dismantling of the former German cruisers, the Goeben and the Breslau, was really an ultimatum to which Turkey was required to make a reply by Saturday evening.

So far as is known here, telegraphic communication with Turkey being interrupted, no answer was made by the ambassadors at the Ottoman capital of the triple entente, who, it is understood, demanded and received their passports.

Turkey has announced that Russian consuls in the Ottoman empire will not be permitted to leave until assurances of safe conduct are given Turkish consuls in Russia.

The Turkish minister of the interior has announced that Turkish warships within the last three days had bombarded Sebastopol.

Servia's Attitude.

Servia has asked the United States to look after her diplomatic interests at Constantinople "in case of war with Turkey."

Great Britain and France have placed their interests in Turkey in the hands of the American embassy, and the Turkish consul at Havre has turned over his consulate to the United States and is preparing, along with other Turkish consuls, to leave France.

Servia's request to the American government to look after her interests was regarded as particularly significant, forecasting the intention of the Balkan monarchy to throw her forces into the field against the Ottoman empire once more.

Turkish troops, which had been on the Egyptian border for some time, already are reported to have crossed the frontier, while the Turkish fleet continues to menace Russian towns and shipping in the Black sea.

Another problem relates to the attitude of Roumania, Bulgaria and Greece, Bulgaria, owing her existence to Russia and being under many obligations to Great Britain, besides being desirous of securing Thrace as far east as the Enos-Midia line, which she was awarded by the London conference after the first Balkan war, but which Turkey retook when Bulgaria was attacked by Greece and Servia, would naturally side with the entente powers, but objects, political observers point out, to fighting side by side with Greece and Servia.

ITALY READY FOR THE FRAY

Rome, Nov. 2.—Italy is aflame with war fever. The people are clamoring for immediate action to protect the nation's interests in the crisis brought about by Turkey's opening of hostilities. The situation is acute by reason of the resignation of the cabinet, which was unable to decide upon a military program. Demonstrations in favor of war took place in many cities and in some troops had to be called out to keep the excited populace in order.

Sentiment throughout Italy favors England, France and Russia. The country's most vital stake is the maintenance of the balance of power along the Adriatic, which would be seriously threatened if either Austria or Turkey were to attempt to seize Albania. The army is now mobilizing to a strength of 1,000,000 men and the fleet is ready for action.

RUSSIA WILL MOVE SLOWLY

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—Grand Duke Nicholas, commander of the Russian forces, has a free hand in the direction of the army. His object for the present is not a tumultuous advance into German territory, but to complete thoroughly the straightening of Russia's battle line from the Baltic to the Carpathians. The hint is given that Russia will sacrifice speed to certainty, and that the world need not expect Russia to fall into a German trap by invading Silesia before the north and south flanks are entirely safeguarded. It will be weeks before Russia can attempt an invasion of Silesia.

FORMER ARMY CHIEF IS DEAD

Los Angeles, Nov. 2.—Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee (retired), former chief of staff of the United States army, died at his home here of typhoid pneumonia. His body will be taken to Washington for interment in Arlington National cemetery. After his retirement General Chaffee was appointed head of the Los Angeles water board. Later he accepted the presidency of an insurance company, but retired from business affairs a few months ago.

GOLD LETTERED SIGNS.

None of the Leaf Used in Making Them Is Ever Wasted.

"On the matter of domestic economy in the American household, which, it is asserted, the housewives and the boys and girls of the family no longer practice, it is interesting to know that if economy be a lost art at home it is pursued with a great deal of care in many lines of business," remarked Henry A. Shields of New York. "I was impressed a few months ago by the observation of a sign painter, who informed me that he could not deliver a sign I had ordered on a certain day because in the intervening time he would have the quarterly clean up day. I was curious to know what clean up day meant, and he told me.

"It appears that in the making of signs a great deal of gold leaf is used, and necessarily some of it is wasted, just as it is when gold letters are placed on show windows. I had never noticed that when the painter is at work putting the leaf on he is careful to conserve all the leavings. Just so in the shops. All refuse there is carefully brushed into a pile and kept. In three months' time there will be a great deal of what appears to be rubbish around a sign painter's shop, but the painter knows its value. This rubbish is cleaned up, stored in bags and sent to Philadelphia, where it is screened and the particles of gold leaf extracted. My friend informed me that it is not unusual to get as high as $90 out of one shipment of rubbish, all of which goes to the workmen in the shop and not to the owner."—Washington Post.

When Charlemagne Took a Bath. Like so many of the European warm springs and bathing places, Baden-Baden was first appreciated by the Romans. The Emperor Caracalla in especial honored it by his patronage.

and adorned it in various Roman ways. With the fall of the empire and the arrival together of the barbarians and Christianity, bathing and, above all, bathing in warm water, fell into disuse all over Europe as an enfeebling and immoral practice. It was only when Charlemagne, whose name was one to conjure with, dipped his imperial person in the hot springs of Aix-la-Chapelle that bathing, after seven centuries of disuse, became again permissible, if not almost desirable. From that time on, with varying fortunes, Baden-Baden was a health and pleasure resort.—Harrison Rhodes in Harper's Magazine.

What The Home Rule Amendment Means

The sole purposes of the Home Rule Amendment are to make the municipal corporation and the township the largest units in local option elections, retaining the present municipal, township and residence district local option laws; to repeal the Rose County Option Law; and to prevent State-Wide Prohibition except upon a vote of the people. The Amendment has nothing whatever to do with the sales to minors law, the Sunday law, or any other regulatory law.

That no other meaning can be forced into this Amendment is the unanimous conclusion, expressed in the most positive terms by the following eminent lawyers:

ACTING CAPTAIN TRUMBULL OF HARVARD WILL BE OUT OF GAME FOR FEW DAYS

Cambridge, October 31.—Acting Captain Wallie Trumbull, the big tackle of the Harvard eleven, is out of the game for a few days because of an injury received in the game with Tufts. He received a severe gash above the eye in a scrimmage and must take a vacation.

ACTING CAPTAIN TRUMBULL

Cause of One War

William the Conqueror lost his life in France through his horse treading on a red-hot cinder while he was superintending the burning of Mantes, but few people know the fact which gave rise to the campaign that cost William his life.

During the latter part of his reign he became abnormally stout and consequently the laughingstock of not only his subjects, but his neighbors across the water. One day his contemporary, rump or France, compared him to a fillet of veal on casters and suggested that he should be exhibited at a prize monarch show. This so enraged William that he straightway made war upon his ridiculer, and the loss of thousands of lives was the result. —London Pitt Bits.

OHIO EXPECTS RECORD VOTE

Rival Party Chairmen Venture Predictions.

EACH SIDE CLAIMS VICTORY

Those Fighting For or Against the Several Constitutional Amendments Also Express Themselves as Confident of the Outcome—What Chairman Finley and Jones and Dry and Wet Leaders Have to Say.

Columbus, Nov. 2.—On the eve of the election chairmen of both the Republican and Democratic state committees express themselves as certain of victory. The same is true of those fighting for or against the constitutional amendments. It is expected that one of the largest votes in the history of the state will be cast, some leaders placing it as high as 1,250,000.

Chairman Jones of the Republican state committee declares all the state candidates on the Republican ticket will win, that more than half the party candidates for congress will be elected, as will be also Harding for United States senator. He also claims control of the new assembly. He predicts that every man on the Republican state ticket will have a plurality of not less than 60,000.

Chairman Finley maintains the entire Democratic ticket will win, that more than twice as many Democrats as Republicans will be elected to congress, that Hogan will defeat Harding and that the Democrats will control the assembly. Finley predicts that all Democratic state candidates will win by decisive pluralities.

Chairman Brown of the Progressives declared the "surprise of the election will be the large vote for Progressive candidates." He did not claim victory.

Four leaders of the movement for and against suffrage and for and against prohibition declared they would win.

Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, president of the Ohio Woman Suffrage association, claims the 80,000 majority against equal suffrage two years ago will be wiped out tomorrow and that the women will win the big campaign they have made to persuade the men to give votes to women now instead of later.

Wet and Dry Statements.

Wayne B. Wheeler, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said: "The 'Home rule' campaign has failed. The enemy overshot the mark in their demand for an amendment to destroy existing legislation immediately after receiving the license under promise to be satisfied. All indications point to a signal victory for the dry forces."

Graham P. Hunt, manager of the campaign for the Ohio Home Rule association, issued a statement in which he predicted a liberal victory. He said: "I expect more than 1,000,000 vote on the home rule and state prohibition amendments. Home rule will be decisively adopted and prohibition will be decisively defeated."

There is general expectation that the present party ratio, nineteen Democratic congressmen and three Republican congressmen, will be considerably altered, and that the Democrats will lose a number of the nineteen seats they now hold. This expectation is shared by the Democratic managers. State Chairman Finley claims the Democratic delegation from Ohio will not be reduced by a larger percentage than will the Democratic majority in the house from the country at large, which means a claim of the election of about fifteen congressmen from this state. State Chairman Jones, on reports from every district, claims the election of at least fourteen Republican candidates, with the possibility of the election of half the others.

THE ELECTION IN OTHER STATES

New York, Nov. 2.—Chief interest in the elections centers on the struggle for the control of the next congress, heightened by the fact that all successful candidates for the senate as well as the house will be chosen by direct popular vote. Thirty-one states will elect senators and in twenty-nine governors will be elected.

In some sections, prohibition and woman suffrage issues have been added to the national features of the campaign. Six states—Ohio, Colorado, California, Missouri, Washington and Oregon, will vote on the question of prohibition of the liquor traffic. Woman suffrage is an important issue in seven states. They are Ohio, Nebraska, Montana, Nevada, North and South Dakota and Missouri.

A careful analysis of the situations in the different states would seem to indicate that the present small Democratic majority of five in the senate is a safe one, as the Republicans would have to make a gain of six to get control and there are only seven states outside of the "solid south" where present Democratic seats are being defended.

In the house 218 members are necessary for a majority. The present Democratic standing is 285, Republican 122, Progressive Republican 2, Progressive 19, Independent 1, and vacancies 6, which seats were last occupied by Democrats. To change the political complexion of the house, opposition parties must maintain their present strength and win 68 additional seats.

Governors will be elected in Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Wyoming and Wisconsin. Democratic governors were elected in Arkansas and Maine in September.

ONE VIEW OF WAR.

And the Question of the Mother of the Slain Soldier Boy.

When I but consider the word war I feel a shock, as if one spoke to me of witchcraft, inquisition, some dead and distant thing, abominable, monstrous, unnatural.

When we hear of cannibals we smile with pride and proclaim our superiority over those savages.

What are savages, real savages—those who fight to eat the victims or those who fight to kill, merely to kill?

Those youthful soldiers of the line speeding along yonder are destined to death, just as the flocks of sheep driven along the roads by a butcher. They are destined to fall on a plain, their heads cleft by a stroke from a sword or their breast pierced by a bullet. And these are young men who could work, produce, be useful. Their fathers are old and poor; their mothers, who during twenty years have loved and worshipped them, as mothers can worship, will learn in six months or perhaps a year that the son, the child, the big child, brought up with so much trouble, with so much money, with so much love, was thrown into a hole like a dead dog after his body, riddled by a bullet, had been trampled and crushed into pulp by the charge of cavalry. Why have they killed her boy, her noble boy, her only hope, her pride, her life?

She cannot tell. Yes, why?—Guy de Maupassant.

"Well," said the unlettered patient, "it sure has encysted on stayin' there." —Chicago Post.

THE TAXATION AMENDMENT

A Club in the Hands of the People

Proposal Number Two—the Tax Amendment—was drawn in the interests of the taxpayers, without any special consideration for the taxspenders.

Its purpose is to protect the taxpayers against the constant demands of the taxspenders for more money to spend.

If you want to stop the taxspenders from taking your money without your permission, vote "Yes" on Proposal Number Two.

If you think you should be consulted before your tax burden is made any heavier, vote "Yes" on Proposal Number Two.

If you believe the people—not the taxspenders—of each municipality ought to have the right to raise and spend their tax money as they see fit, vote "Yes" on Proposal Number Two.

If you believe you can trust yourself to make a tax rate which will satisfy all reasonable demands of the taxspenders, vote "Yes" on Proposal Number Two.

Unless you want the next Legislature to knock out what is left of the Smith Law, and return to the old high tax rates on the present high tax valuations, vote "Yes" on Proposal number Two.

Taxspenders everywhere are resorting to misrepresentation to defeat the proposed Constitutional Amendment to write the Smith one per cent tax limit into the Constitution.

WHY?

Because this Amendment will take the power to levy taxes above the present rates out of their hands and put it into your hands where it belongs.

This Amendment puts the Smith one per cent law into the Constitution where the taxspenders cannot tamper with it at each session of the Legislature. The people, however, can increase or decrease the tax rate at any general election.

In local taxing districts the local taxspenders may levy the present rate—not exceeding one per cent—for all general purposes. If they want to go beyond that limit they must ask the consent of the voters, and they must designate the specific purpose for which the additional levy is to be used.

That is the nubbin of the taxspenders' opposition; they don't want to be held accountable to the people.

This Amendment provides liberally for the financial needs of growing cities. It provides that the revenue from taxation each year shall not exceed the revenue of the preceding year, plus the revenue obtained from increases in the tax duplicate.

If for any reason more money is wanted, the people can vote to supply it; but the taxspenders must first ask the people's consent, and must state the specific purpose for which the additional money is to be spent.

The Tax Amendment has the endorsement of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Exchanges, The Ohio Manufacturers' Association, The Ohio State Board of Commerce and many other organizations of taxpayers. It is opposed by the organized taxspenders.

For the protection of the people against higher taxes, which means higher rents and higher cost of living, vote "Yes" on the Tax Amendment which is Proposal Number Two on the special ballot.

VOTE "YES."

The amendment provides for a division of property into three classes and the limitation of one per cent. as the maximum tax burden applies to each class. Farm implements, tools, farm products, merchants and manufacturers goods household goods, etc., will be included in the tangible personal property. Moneys and credits in the intangible class. Under the proposed classification more revenue can be raised from intangible property to the benefit of real property because intangible property will be brought out of hiding.

The Legislature may exempt mortgages from taxation, thus abolishing one form of double taxation.

The amendment will not cost the schools one cent.

It will not interfere with the state's good road policy.
